(Last Review Jan 2021 - Next Planned Review Jan 2022)

Whistleblowing

Starfish 9 Ltd encourages a free and open culture in dealings between managers, employees, and all people with whom it engages in business and legal relations. Breaches or failures are to be effectively dealt with.

This policy is designed to provide guidance to all those who work with or within the company who may from time to time feel that they need to raise certain issues relating to the company with someone in confidence.

Anyone who in the public interest raises genuine concerns under this policy will not under any circumstances be subject to any form of detriment or disadvantage as a result of having raised their concerns.

Procedure

This policy will apply in cases where individuals genuinely believe that one of the following set of circumstances is occurring, has occurred or may occur within the company and that it is in the public interest for the employee to disclose it. The matters that may be disclosed in this way are:

- A criminal offence has been committed, is being committed or is likely to be committed.
- A person has failed, is failing or is likely to fail to comply with any legal obligation to which he or she is subject.
- A miscarriage of justice has occurred, is occurring or is likely to occur
- The health and safety of any individual is likely to be damaged.
- The environment has been, is being or is likely to be damaged.
- Information tending to show any matter falling within any one of the preceding paragraphs has been, is being or is likely to be deliberately concealed.

There is no need for an individual to prove that the breach or failure that they are alleging has occurred or is likely to occur: a reasonable suspicion will suffice, i.e., where the individual reasonably believes that the information disclosed is substantially true. However, it should be noted that they are not entitled to make a disclosure if in doing so they commit a criminal offence.

If workers wish to raise or discuss any issues which might fall into one of the categories listed above, they should contact the Managing Director, or in his absence the Health & Safety Manager. The person will, insofar as possible treat the matter in confidence. It is likely that an investigation will be necessary and the employee who has made the disclosure may be required to attend an investigatory hearing and or/ a disciplinary hearing (as a witness). Appropriate steps will be taken to ensure that the individuals working relationships are not prejudiced by the fact of the disclosure.
